Friday, 17th March, 2023

Dear Parents / Carers,

I hope this newsletter finds you well.

Please note, there are no Golden Ticket, Reading Champions or Character Strength awards this week, as we have had several staff off sick and children not in school for 2 days due to the national industrial action. Awards will resume next week.

Over the coming weeks, we are holding our charity events for HCPT and CAFOD. Please refer to earlier communications for the dates/times. Thank you to those who have already sent in their scavenger hunts.

We have been made aware of a viral trend involving Tik Tok. If your child is on Tik Tok (13+ app age rating), please take the time to read this article:

Thank you to the FRIENDS group (inc new volunteers) for serving drinks after the Mothers' Day Assembly this morning. The date of the next FRIENDS meeting will be shared once it has been agreed.

Take Care and have a restful weekend.

Community Allotment Update:

As detailed in previous newsletters, we are working with Hindsford Day Nursery to develop a community allotment facility on the area of land adjacent to the school playing field. We now have a plan for the first phase of development, and we should start to see some work commencing very soon, that will enable us to access a growing and potting area in the summer term. Watch this space.

Year 3 Egyptian's Workshop:

We have a visitor to Year 3 on Tuesday to deliver an Egyptian workshop. The class will learn about Tutankhamun, the sort of clothing that was worn in Egypt during this time and see some artefacts. Please note, there is no cost for this visit.

Chocolate Donations:

Thank you all for the chocolate donations which have been sent in today. The dates and times of the FRIENDS Chocolate Bingo event will be sent next week.

Reception Stay and Play: Wednesday

The next stay and play session for Reception parents is next Wednesday. We look forward to seeing you all. Please sign in at the front office.

Work Experience: FLHS

Next week, we welcome 6 students from Fred Longworth High School to our school, 3 of whom are former pupils. We hope they have an enjoyable placement.

School Accounts:

As the financial year is coming to a close, please ensure all accounts are up to date. Thank you for your attention in this matter.
